

Luke 1:68-79 Benedictus

✠ Blessed be the · Lord Gód of Ísrael; * for he hath visited and · redeemed his péople,
And hath raised up an horn of · salvation for us * in the house of · his sérvant Dávid;

As he spake by the mouth of · his hóly próphets, * which have · been since the wórlð began:
That we should be · saved from our énemies, * and from the hand · of áll that háte us;

To perform the mercy pro· mised to our fáthers, * and to remember · his hóly cóvenant;
The oath which he sware to · our fáther Ábraham, * that he · would gránt unto us;

That we being delivered out of the · hánd of our énemies * might · serve him without fear,
In holiness and right· eousness before him, * all · the dáys of our life.

And thou, child, shalt be called the proph· et of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the · Lórd to prépare his ways;
To give knowledge of salvation · unto his péople * by the · remission of their sins,

Through the tend· er mércy of our God; * whereby the dayspring from on high · hath visited us,
To give light to them that sit in darkness and in · the shádw of death, * to guide our feet · into the wáy of peace.

Glory be to the · Fáther and to the Son * · and to the Hóly Ghost.
As it was in the beginning, is now, · and éver shall be, * · wórlð without énd. Amen.

Luke 1:46-55 Magnificat

✠ My soul · doth mágnify the Lord, * and my spirit hath rejoiced · in Gód my Sávour.

For · he hath regárded * the low estate · of his handmáiden:

For, · behóld, from hénceforth * all generations · shall cáll me bléss·ed. For he that is mighty · hath dóne to mé great things; * · and hóly is his name.

And his mercy is · on thém that féar him * from generation · to génerátion.

He hath · shewed stréngth with his arm; * he hath scattered the proud in the ima· ginátion of their hearts.

He hath put down · the mighty from their seats, * and exalt· ed thém of lów degree.

He hath filled the · húngry with góod things; * and the rich he hath · sent émpty away.

He hath holpen · his sérvant Ísrael, * in remem· brance of his mércy;

As he · spake to our fáthers, * to Ábraham, and to · his séed for éver.

Glory be to the · Fáther and to the Son * · and to the Hóly Ghost.
As it was in the beginning, is now, · and éver shall be, * · wórlð without énd. Amen.
